

Mrs. Rohloff's Second Grade Weekly Newsletter

Week of January 2-4 (Wed.-Fri)

Second Grade News!

Welcome back to school! I hope everyone had a wonderful holiday break. There are no tests this week :).

There has been a small change to our classroom schedule. We now have Library Class on Wednesdays and Thursdays.

Our class is in need of plastic grocery bags. The students often ask me for the bags to carry their wet snow pants and boots home in. If anyone has any extra bags at home, we would love them. Thank you!

Reminders

- *Library Books are due on Wednesdays
- *Parents-please sign and empty your child's folder daily. Thank you!

What Are We Learning About This Week?

Spelling: The students will be reviewing the spelling words in Units 1-15. There is no spelling test this week.

Reading: The students will be reading stories written by Jan Brett.

Writing: The students will be learning how to write directions. They will create a paper snowman and write about how to build it.

Math: The students will begin learning how to subtract 2-digit numbers.

Science: The students will begin a new chapter on "Earth's Weather and Seasons." They will discuss many kinds of weather and learn about the water cycle.

Social Studies: The students will learn the differences between needs and wants.
